Roberts is visiting in Stanford this week. — George S. Durham was in Stanford, Tuesday. — Frank Brooks is with home folks this week. — If talk would build concrete walks, we would have them from the center of town to the circumference thereof. Every fellow we see has a different idea as to the where and how, but we feel that with five as good business men as we have to engineer our affairs there should be no question that they will not do the proper thing. The board is in session now (Wednesday night), and we feel certain that an order will be passed that concrete walks are to be put down in at least the most needed places. — Clyde Brooks is very sick. — S. E. Chandler has moved to the farm on Negro-Creek that he recently purchased from J. J. McCull. — Wm. Hysinger bought a fine mule from George Brumett for $140.

REPELS ATTACK OF DEATH

"Five years ago two doctors told me I had only two years to live." This startling statement was made by stillman Green, Malachite Col. "They told me I would die with consumption. It was up to me then to try the best lung medicine and I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery. It was well I did for today I am working and believe I owe my life to this great throat and lung cure that has cheated the grave of another victim." Davis is moving his stock of goods to the J. S. Caloway store room and E. L. Cockerell is moving his stock of goods in the store room that he purchased of L. H. Davis. — R. S. Magruder was in Lebanon Tuesday. — Corn has reached the dollar mark here and fodder is as scarce as hens teeth. But we are hoping to soon see the time when the woods and fields will be clothed in green and our stock can look out for their own interest. — John Lear of the Carpio Section was here Tuesday. — John is a hustling salesman. — Mrs. W. H. Cottogno and children are visiting relatives in Corbin this week. — Daniel Gray, of Lebanon, is visiting George Pope this week. — Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Preston, of Brodhead, have sold their belongings and are moving to Cincinnati Ohio. They stopped off a few days with Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hays, of this place. — Mrs. W. R. Whitehead, of Mt. Vernon is visiting Mrs. George Pope. — Uncle Sam ward remains about this same. We miss him very much in town. — Miss Letitia Mullins who has pneumonia fever is improving. — Mrs. John Shearer, and Mrs. O. B. Foley, of Paris, visited their sisters, Mrs. Carpio and Mrs. Hugh Jenkins, of this place, Saturday. — Will Ward has moved in one of his father's houses over the river. — R. L. Thomas, of Winchester, has been in our town for the past week. — Mrs. James Gomer who has been in Cincinnati Ohio for the past year has returned to her farm at the foot of the Clondyke. — J. L. Fegnolds was in Mt. Vernon Saturday. — Mrs. Alvin Reynolds and children have been visiting relatives at White. — James Taylor of Conway, was here Sunday. — R. L. Gregory, of Louisville, paid the dispatchers office a pleasant call Sunday. — J. P. E. Drummonds was in Mt. Vernon Saturday. — R. M. Proctor, of Mt. Vernon, is working a few nights in Hugh Stewarts place at the depot. — Jonas Stephen of near Woodstock, Pulaski county, was here between trains Saturday. — Atty. J. W. Brown, of Mt. Vernon, was here Saturday. — Miss J. W. Fams and children are visiting her parents at Pittsburg this week. — R. J. Lemonds has returned from a visit to relatives at Paris Tenn. — Miss Virginia Davis, of Mt. Vernon, visited Misses Flora and Florence Pennington Friday. — G. T. Dunn and George Reynolds, of Corbin, were here Monday enroute to Lebanon Ky. — Mr. Dunn is foreman of the car department for L. & N. R. R. Co., and Mr. Reynolds is car inspector. — L. H. Davis purchased the J. H. Dickerson Bankrupt stock of goods sold here Monday for $1500. — Judge Marshall sold his farm on Long Branch to Jackson Overbey for $500. — Fritz Krueger, of Mt. Vernon, was here Monday. — L. S. Gardner has returned and is now running his barber shop again. — Dr. W. T. Amey has been in Louisville for a few days. — Hardin Mahaffey's boarding cars have arrived here and he will take them to Livingston and run an extra gang. — Born to the wife of Clyde Clancy a fine girl on the 4th. — Mr. Pennington, the marshal, has a writ for Bill Reece. He found it out some way and now Bill is in jail. — Well if the marshal can't get him he will have to stay away and at will do just as well. — Just a few days ago we thought we were going to have ideal Spring weather. The sun shown so beautiful and the thermometer stood at 40. The old women commenced planning where they were going to plant their beans and how many chickens they were going to raise and even went so far as to sharpen up the old case knives to pick stagger weed (or greens). But on rising next morning a great change had taken place. The thermometer had dropped to 10 above. The earth was covered with 4 inches of snow and as cold as Greenland. So we have learned that it will not do to build castles in the air and the best laid plans of men or mice are liable to get overthrown. — Mr. and Mrs. B. Rice, of Quick-sand Ky., are visiting the latter parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Witt, at this place. — The Holy Rollers closed their series of meeting here Monday night. There is one thing sure, they are the most religious people we ever saw or they are the biggest devils on earth one or the other. — They tell us we are soon to have a jail in our little berg. Well if things keep on as they have started we will not need it for we are in the midst of civilization now. We are coming to the front and it will not be long until you can hear the town of Livingston spoken of as the model town of the mountains.

SHERWOOD PENSION BILL
Senator Bradley explains the whyfores and wherefores of the death in the Senate of the Sherwood Pension Bill.
Washington, D. C., Feb. 26, 1912.

A persistent effort is being made to impress the Union Soldiers that President Taft is opposed to the passage of a pension bill in their behalf. There never was a more miserable falsehood. Supplementing this, in certain directions it is being circulated that I killed the Sherwood Bill at the instance of Mr. Taft, and am also opposed to pension bill. Those who know my long and consistent record as the Soldiers friend will know this is a lie of whole cloth. Since I have been in the Senate I have procured the passage of more special pension bills than any three of my predecessors. I refer to a late instance when on February 1st, 1912 I reported favorably a bill ($5045) increasing the pensions of one hundred and ninety one soldiers among them a number from Kentucky.

The Democrats in the lower house have never before shown themselves so devotedly and actively the friends of the soldiers. They knew the Sherwood Bill would never pass the Senate and it seems clear to my mind that their support of it in many instances was a political maneuver to obtain the soldiers' votes. The majority of the Democrats in the Senate are opposed to that bill as are also a majority of Republicans. Besides, the officers of the Grand army of the Republic appeared before us and opposed it.

In the first place, even had I for the purpose of political effect voted for its favorable report, there would have been an overwhelming majority against it. But I did not care to play the demagogue when I knew it could not pass and a favorable report would most likely produce conditions which would lead to the defeat of any pension bill at the present session.

The next bill proposed to be reported was the Burnham Bill which carries an annual appropriation of $29,857,026, which would entail a cost of much less the first year because of failure to have claims adjusted, but the second year would entail a cost of $40,373,907, after which time it would steadily decrease by reason of deaths. This bill with the $150,000,000 already provided would pay the soldiers annually more than $179,000,000.

The majority of the Committee voted against its favorable report and then ordered reported favorably the Smoot Bill carrying $24,112,575 annually which will entail a cost the first year of $11,454,000, the second year $82,000,000, after which it will steadily decrease.

It was necessary to report out favorably a bill in order to give the Senate a chance to act, and it was agreed that this bill should be reported, each senator reserving the right to offer amendments. That bill has been reported and now either the Sherwood or Burnham Bill can be substituted for it either in whole or in part.

What I desired to do was to have prompt action and such action we will now have. I have no doubt a liberal bill will pass at this session. The Sherwood bill has not been killed but may be substituted. However, I am free to say that it will not be.

I am on the ground and think I know what is best for the true interest of the soldier and shall not hesitate to do all in my power to accomplish that interest.

GRIFFIN'S MILL

Well, Mr. Ed we are still among the living away out here on the west side. I guess there may be many readers of the dear old SIGNAL that will be glad to ponder over a few lines from this part of the vineyard as I have been requested by my neighbors to make frequent reports through the SIGNAL so their relatives and friends in other states and localities may hear from the place most dear to them their "Old Kentucky Home". — Old mother earth was nicely carpeted with about 6 or 8 inches of pretty white snow Saturday night March 2. — Some farmers have done considerable plowing for the coming crop while some are still waiting to see whether its going to be a good crop year. The good old honest plow horse and old red too that gives us so much nice milk and butter are patiently waiting for mother earth to clothe herself with a carpet of lovely green instead of the white one previously spoken of. — Mrs. Sarah Denjev, of Clarence, Pulaski Co., has been visiting friends and relatives the past week. — W. B. Potcet's family visited in Pulaski county from Friday until Sunday. — Miss Cleavy Bloomer of Woodstock has been visiting her brother, John Bloomer, of this place the past two weeks. — Eld. James Cummins went to Goochtown Saturday and Sunday to fill his regular appointment at that place.

W. B. Potcet took W. H. Brown, of Mt. Vernon, a car load of flour from the Walnut Grove roller mill last Saturday. Bill came back advocating better roads. — Riddle Bros., of Walnut Grove, are doing a good business with their saw mill. — Uncle James Cash of near here, who has been dangerously ill is slowly improving. — J. W. Ping remains about the same. — L. L. Hasty has bought a car load of lambs for the June delivery at a fair price. — John Bloomer has his store house nearly completed and will put in a complete stock of general merchandise at once. — Joe Brown and J. L. Hasty are talking of trading farms these bad days while Joe can't plow. — J. M. Craig, our Quail stock trader, came near being killed one day last week by his foot hanging in the stirrup when he went to dismount his horse, the horse became frightened and dragged Mr. Craig some distance when the stirrup leather broke thereby saving his life.

Hello! Livingston, How about you and I studying up a little and attending the next Blue Back spelling contest at Mt. Vernon? Or better still I guess we'd better say if it had been 25 years ago we could have stood our grounds. — We are indeed very sorry to see the report of our old friend and kinsman, Eliza Mullins being dead. The bereaved family has the heart felt sympathy of their many friends from this side of the county in their sad hour of bereavement. Dear family it seems that it might be consoling to you to only say The Lords Will Be done.

A telephone manager says seven tenths of telephone users fail or refuse to understand or abide by the simplest rules or directions in regard to the manipulation of a telephone. It seems, he continues, that a majority are under the impression that it requires no rules, directions or intelligence to call up over telephone and hold one or a half dozen conversations with one or as many different people in various localities. Many never think to "ring off," others get hopping mad because an operator doesn't answer a "ring off," seemingly being ignorant of the plain directions to be found in every issue of a directory. Some after calling central and getting connection through to party called for and after holding a conversation with them, will begin hollering to operator to give them another person or place without even ringing off. Of course the operator doesn't hear them once out of twenty, as more than likely said operator may have answered a half dozen other rings in the meantime and may be busy talking or giving connections on other lines and not suppose to be rubbering or eavedropping. When through talking "ring off," (after replacing receiver in hook) by giving crank a sharp, quick turn. Wait ten seconds before ringing again, if you wish to make another call. This ring should be made by giving the crank two or three turns thereby distinguishing it from a "ring off." In putting in a call the caller often does very much more ringing than is necessary. Give an ordinary ring and wait awhile for an answer instead of continuing the ring. If no answer in five or ten seconds then you may ring again.

GOOD ROADS.

In sixty counties in Kentucky there is not so much as one good road built at public expense, by public enterprise, nor is there any provision whatsoever for the maintenance of a good road were one constructed.

Eighty of the 119 counties of Kentucky are pauper counties.

The number of native born Kentuckians living in other States is but slightly smaller than the States present resident population.

The coal fields of Kentucky are second only to those of Pennsylvania.

The agricultural lands of the State are easily the most fertile in the South.

It costs from two to three times as much to haul a two-horse wagon load of products from the farm or mine to the railroad depot as from the depot to the market.

The annual cost to Kentucky of bad roads has been estimated by Government experts in dollars and cents at $2,225,000.

The loss in good red blood, in the brain, brawn and character of Kentuckians who leave the State to make a living elsewhere is not to be estimated.

Had the native sons remained at home and natural resources been developed, Kentucky would today have a population of almost 5,000,000 and its place at the head of the list of Southern States would be undisputed.

These are not theories. They are facts, and facts which the membership of the House should consider before voting against the Bosworth good road bill, which however faulty in construction and cumbersome in the method they provide, will if they become law secure to every county in the State a system of good roads.

The tax imposed is five cents on the $100. The amount raised from this source in any one year will not exceed $500,000. The amount added to it by the counties building good roads will be $1,000,000 a year. The total tax for good roads will be $1,500,000. Its collection will transform pauper counties into self-sustaining counties, will keep Kentucky's young men at home, increase the value of farm lands, timber holdings and mines, and in exchange for the isolation to which the country people are now condemned for months in every year will provide the unrestricted enjoyment of social, educational and religious advantages.

The tax for good roads will cost the State $1,500,000 a year.

The tax for bad roads costs the producers $2,225,000 a year. It has already cost the State the loss of more than two million of its citizens. It costs the majority of those that remain the difference between an existence eked out of hard labor and a living such as the State can be made to provide if its gifts are garnered. Two years ago the General assembly saw fit to reject the good roads tax in favor of the mud tax. The General Assembly of 1912 can repeat no more costly blunder.—Times.

WITHERS

Died Thursday morning the 29, at 1:20 o'clock, at his home, Elisha Mullins, aged 68, of a complication of diseases. Uncle Elisha, as he was familiarly called, left an aged companion and eight children to mourn the loss of a dear husband and father, besides a host of friends and relatives. All the children were present except two daughters, Mrs. James Clark, of Red Fork, Oklahoma, and Mrs. Frank Goforth, of Anadarko, Oklahoma. Funeral services were conducted at his residence by Rev. W. D. Mullins and the burial took place on his old home farm as was his desire.

Emmet Anderson, of Clintonville, is visiting home folks, at this place.—W. G. Mullins, of Disputanta, has returned home after being here through the illness and death of his father.—Mrs. Jarvis J. Brown, of Level Green, was called here on the account of the death of her father.—Frank Jones, of Berea passed through last week on his way home, and was calling on the merchants.—Steve Drew, of Robinet is contemplating moving to Kansas.—Eddy Robinson, of the Gauley section had a child burned very badly, last week, by falling into a kettle of soap.—Ben Mullins and wife are visiting his father, C. E. Mullins.—J. M. Roberts and Nath Bonds are the hunters of this place. They caught two foxes one night last week.

Supt. J. W. Kincer. received the following communication relative to teachers last draw. "I do not know just when the last month's salary of the teachers will be paid. The Treasurer has not sufficient money at present to pay it. No one knows just how rapidly the funds will come in, and we are therefore unable to tell just when it will be paid." Signed by the Supt. of Public Instruction.

Mr. A. R. Denny, president of National Bank Lancaster, writes to Louisville Post, as follows "I read in yesterday's Post a communication signed 'Citizen' in which he criticises the Good Roads Bill because the cities and wealthier counties will be taxed to build roads outside their limits, and insinuates that the obscure portions of the State will be helped.

Citizen forgets, or does not know that the bluegrass counties were aided by the States about seventy five years ago and by reason of their good roads have grown in wealth and refinement, while the poorer counties have been paying their quota of taxation without receiving any assistance in improving their roads so that they may transport their products to market and enable them to send their children to school and qualify them for good citizenship.

As good roads enhance the value of lands, aid given for roads would soon increase the revenues of the State and curtail the drain upon the treasury for pauper counties and stimulate the latent energy that now lies dormant."

Col. Alex A. Arthur, 66, died at Middlesboro, Ky., last Monday, after a lingering illness. SPECIAL AGRICULTURAL TRAIN.

According to a dispatch from Lexington the special train, which is to be donated by the principal railroad companies operating in Kentucky, is to be one of the best equipped trains of the kind ever sent out from any part of the country. It is to be composed of one flat car for demonstration work, dinner. Pullman, horticultural car, seed car, dairy car, poultry car, stock car, two cars for the lecture's and a domestic science car. The itinerary is being arranged as rapidly as possible and will be announced at an early date. The entire train, is stated, will represent on an elaborate scale "an agricultural college on wheels, brought right to the homes of the people of the country." or lectures demonstrations that ordinarily can be seen only at the State experiment stations."

Demonstrations of this kind should prove of great value to the agricultural, livestock, dairying and other allied interests of the State. It is possible in this way to reach great numbers of farmers who are unfamiliar with experiment station work and who by reason of their living at points remote from the stations cannot to any material measure be influenced or benefited by the demonstration farms. Kentucky has indulged only to a limited extent in this effective mode of agriculture "evangelization." The special train which is to start on its travels the latter part of this month will be the first of the kind for a number of years, but it should not be the last. Kentucky needs to learn a great deal about scientific farming and farm management.—(Courier Journal.)

The Signal will give due notice of date of the above train's visit to Mt. Vernon, and this county.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. McElroy, of Covington, announce the marriage of their daughter, Clarice Underwood, to Sam J. Nichols, of Danville. Miss McElroy has visited Miss Adams a number of times, and has many friends here. Mr. Nichols is a prominent young banker, of the Boyle County Capital.

The Senate at Frankfort has passed a bill to prohibit the sale in local option territory of all beverages upon which internal revenue taxes are paid. If the House passes the bill it will do away with the sale of malt, mead and similar drinks in all local option and prohibition territory.

The Holy Rollers have been holding forth at the Court house this week. It is not our purpose to criticize the work of the Holy Rollers for we are not competent to judge. But there is one fact we know, and that is, if the inner man is as good as the outward appearance would indicate, they are certainly a Godly set of people.

A Club of some twenty odd men, old and young met Monday and formed themselves into a club and rented the Pool tables from Paris Sowder, which were put out of business by the high license. The town board takes the position that Sowder has no right to rent the tables while still located in his barber shop, and had a warrant of arrest issued for him Thursday. The case will be tried Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin, and their many friends here were very much surprised yesterday, when William Martin, arrived in town with his bride of only a few hours. The new Mrs. Martin was Miss M. Ude Day, a pretty young woman, of Tazewell Tenn. She visited Mrs. C. B. McKenzie, at this place last summer. Mr. Martin is a Mt. Vernon boy, who has made good in the business world. He now holds a responsible position with one of the largest wholesale and retail hardware houses in the South. They expect to be here about ten days, and will make their home in Lynchburg, Va.

The patrons of the Mt. Vernon Postoffice, renting lock boxes, are notified to keep their boxes locked at all times. The postmaster has received instructions from the Post office Department to refuse to place mail in any lock box which is not kept locked by the owner thereof. The Postoffice Department is not responsible for mail matter in boxes that are not kept locked by the owner, but should any lock box that is kept locked be opened by any other party than the owner, or person authorized by him this constitutes an offense against the law and is punishable by fine and imprisonment.

The old Blue Back spelling contest, did not bring forth the enthusiasm that was expected, however there was a fairly good crowd present to hear the few old time spellers, who had sufficient nerve to try to spell. Some who could spell were afraid they would miss, and stayed away and the result was, had not some of the members of the Graded School faculty and a few of the Students consented to spell, the number of spellers would have been few. T. J. Nicely and J. F. Griffin, acted as the captains. Mr. Griffin won the prize offered by Prof. Houston for the gentleman who held out the longest, and Mrs. S. C. Franklin, won the prize for the best lady speller. Coffee and gingerbread were served to the spellers; which was, to them about the most enjoyable part of the evening.

Saturday was the regular annual election of the officers of the Peoples Bank, as follows:—U. G. Baker, President, J. P. E. Drummond, Vice President, F. L. Thompson Jr., Cashier, C. C. Cox Assistant Cashier. Directors W. J. Sparks, P. H. Shotts, S. D. Lewis, R. G. Moore, U. G. Baker, L. W. Butthum and D. B. Southards.

The cashier and assistant are the new additions and we are sure that their election will meet with the hearty approval of the patrons of that institution. Mr. Thompson, who has been associated with the bank ever since it started, is thoroughly familiar and capable, is industrious and we believe, under his guidance, the bank will enjoy its greatest prosperity. Mr. Cox, the assistant cashier, is a young man of sterling traits of character, honest and industrious and will prove a splendid man for the place.

Our school having outgrown its present quarters we have purchased additional land and buildings, the home place of Mr. Ab Sparks. This property is an ideal place for a school not alone because of the commodious buildings, which enable us to have a large assembly hall, 3 splendid class rooms, numerous bed rooms, a work shop and a gymnasium but a large campus with splendid shade and room sufficient for a tennis court, basket ball ground and a ball diamond.

The entrance of 28 pupils since Jan. 1st, has made it possible and necessary for us to have still more help than we originally expected to have. In addition to the grades and normal work we now have a class doing excellent high school work. Our Spring term begins Monday March 11 and we shall be able to accommodate 10 new pupils in the boarding department. Jones Fish Jr. and Ora Brown are among the adult pupils who have entered this week. We expect to be in our new quarters this week. IDA MAY ADAMS.

BROWN MEMORIAL SCHOOL

As the fiscal year of the school closes March 31st and accounts must be in by March 15th, a prompt settlement of all bills will be much appreciated.

The girl's literary society which has been re-organized under the name Gamma Sigma has chosen for its officers: Daisy Fish, president; B. A. Dridge, vice president; Rae Hunt secretary; Julia Fish, critic.

A Christian Endeavor Society has been organized by the older girls of the school. The meetings will be held every Sunday afternoon except the third, when the society will unite with the C. E. at the Christian church. The officers are Mattie Huff, president; Elizabeth Gentry, vice-president; Georgia Amyx, secretary; Bertha Litton, organist; Minnie Hinkle, chairman of prayer meeting committee; May Napier, chairman of social committee.

The fourth grade reading class is doing good and interesting work in Ruskin's King of the Golden River. The high school cooking class is finding pleasure, as well as profit, in its Friday morning demonstrations. One girl, assisted by another prepares some dish to illustrate the food principles they have studied during the week. Although elementary and without a fully equipped laboratory these experiments have been found very helpful.

Fire losses in Mt. Vernon since the year 1876 amounts to $52,450. Insurance $27,900. The fire of May 1877 destroyed residence and office of Dr. S. W. Brown; residence of Mrs. R. G. Williams & Co. J. T. Clarks residence in the 80's. Ed Repperts residence on West Main street and Wiederholds stove mill burned about 1890.

August 1898 saw Mt. Vernon's largest fire when the following property was destroyed; the old Jack Adams store house and attached buildings; ware room and store room of M. J. Miller; store room and residence of Andrew Baker (the old C. W. Adams stand) residence, store room and attached buildings of J. J. Williams and D. N. Williams drug store. There was but little if any insurance on this block of buildings. Next followed C. C. Davis drug store on July 10th, 1905. Cox Brother's store (the old brick hotel) burned Nov. 21st, 1908. On July 10th, 1910 Mt. Vernon had its most costly fire, when the stores of U. G. Baker, F. Krueger & Son, and S. W. Davis went up in flames. Hamlin's Roller mill also burned in the same year. M. G. Fish's residence on Richmond street was destroyed that year also. The latest fire was February 22nd, the birthday of the father of his country. The Miller House, M. J. Miller's store, the residence and office of Dr. R. W. Dyche were destroyed.

NOTICE:—Those who have subscribed for stock in the Mt. Vernon Fair Association, will please call at the Secretary's office and pay in same on or before March 15th, and receive certificates. Please call at once without fail.

Do you know that of all the minor ailments colds are by far the most dangerous? It is not the cold itself that you need to fear, but the serious diseases that it often leads to. Most of these are known as germ diseases. Pneumonia and consumption are among them. Why not take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and cure your cold while you can? For sale by Chas. C. Davis.
